Subject: Lab Week

Good Morning!

Since next week is Lab Week and we have nothing planned for our lab specifically, I thought it might be nice to do something as a group. When I was upstairs we used to do something just for our floor. Since we are pretty much all that's left I figured we could do something like a pizza a party one day next week; if everyone was ok with it that is. These are some of the things we used to do as a group on the 4th floor when I worked up there for Lab Week: Bagel parties, ice cream parties, pot luck lunches, pizza parties etc.

Let me know if you're interested in doing any/all of the above and don't forget your Administrative Assistants next Wednesday! LOL
